Corporate Overview

Armstrong Enterprise Communications, Inc. (AEC) is a professional business partner and valuable technical resource to the developing business community.

When your organization's objective is to enhance productivity and proficiency, AEC provides the knowledge, direction, support and resolution to satisfy those needs.

Formed in 1995, AEC offers complete professional support services for the integration of networks, multi-platform environments, and stand-alone computer systems.

We continually update our product and services portfolio to meet the challenges of our clients' ongoing business requirements. We have positioned ourselves to meet tomorrow's challenges today. Our company employs a staff of highly competent and well educated vendor certified

Network Engineers, product specialists, technical support, sales and administrative professionals who will answer your calls, design, deliver, install your specialized systems, and support your needs today, tomorrow and well into the future.

Products

Not-for-profit

Association Management. iMIS is the only full featured comprehensive association management system that will address the needs of today's modern association. iMIS is compatible with the most popular accounting, word processing and office software applications.

Fundraising organizations of all sizes can launch, track and manage fund raising efforts more easily and successfully than ever before. Designed by a team of industry experts, Fund Raising is one of the most technically advanced systems available—yet it's also easy to use.

Accounting Solutions

Great Plains Dynamics Over 24,000 businesses use Dynamics to improve their competitive advantage. Dynamics' integrated solution offers powerful financials, e-business, sales, purchasing, project accounting, payroll and human resources solutions that are easy to use and personalize.

eEnterprise—is a proven, global business management solution for Microsoft BackOffice. Integrated and customizable modules are strategically delivered by functional business series: financial, distribution, enterprise reporting, manufacturing, payroll, human resources, service management, electronic commerce, and Internet self-service.

Sales Force Automation

Great Plains Siebel Front Office is a co-branded and co-defined solution leveraging the CRM expertise of Siebel Systems. The solution is fully integrated to Great Plains back office providing mid-market customers the ability to automate their entire business.

Services

We are working hard to earn your respect and a reputation for delivering the highest quality of service among all our colleagues and especially from our customers. As a result of our knowledge and ability to leverage technology, the AEC Staff has the capability to prolong the benefits of your organization long after the initial implementation. AEC invests in your future by building expertise in all the following areas:

- ⇒ Consulting in Assoc. Management Systems.
- ⇒ Network System Design and Installation
- ⇒ Web development
- ⇒ Internet, E-Mail, and Voice Mail Solutions
- ⇒ Training—Administrative & End-User
- ⇒ Remote Hardware/Software Support and Training Capabilities thru serviceNET
- ⇒ Performance Auditing

As our account base continues to expand as well as our customers' reliance on technology, we have launched our own exclusive national support program—ServiceLINE. Call one of our regional centers for a brochure and see how you can enjoy rapid deployment as though our offices are just around the corner.

Certifications

AEC is dedicated to hiring, training, and retaining the best-qualified professional staff available in the industry today. With this staff we have been able to acquire value added reseller and service certifications from major manufacturers:
