Armstrong Enterprise Communications
Awarded with ASI's Presidents Club Award for Vertical Innovation

Armstrong Enterprise Communications, of Fairfax Virginia has been recognized by Advanced Solutions International (ASI) at their annual Innovations Conference, with the Presidents Clubs Award for excellence in Vertical Innovation. The Presidents Club award is awarded to an Authorized iMIS Solution Provider for creating exceptional customer solutions, using and extending ASI products. The awards recognize creativity and ingenuity in creating lasting and innovative customer solutions. Contestants are judged using criteria such as clean and consistent user interfaces, innovative use of iMIS extension facilities, the business value provided by the application and the breadth of appeal. Armstrong Enterprise Communications, Inc. was awarded the iMIS Vertical Innovation Award for its Industry Calendar entry.

“We’re very proud of our achievement as it demonstrates our commitment to our customers and our passion for creating web-centric solutions of value,” says Keith Hunter, President of Armstrong. “We’re committed to creating the best possible solutions for our clients, and participating with ASI in the collaborative iMIS Community helps us ensure that we deliver services of the highest quality.”

At the Conference, Armstrong was again inducted to the prestigious Chairman’s Circle, which is an honor ASI awards to top performers within the Channel. Armstrong has been exclusively awarded the Chairman’s Circle award for the ninth consecutive year; every year of the award’s existence. In addition to implementation of business solutions, Armstrong's portfolio of services includes consulting and evaluation of customer's needs and matching available technology. Armstrong specializes in management systems for the non-profit and commercial sectors which include iMIS and Microsoft ERP solutions such as Dynamics GP and Small Business manager.
